The National Assembly strongly endorses the nomination of Blaenavon Town and Industrial Landscape for inscription on the UNESCO list of World Heritage sites. The Assembly considers it significant that Blaenavon should go forward as the British nomination in this year of the creation of the Assembly, and believes that it is representative of the seminal contribution of the people of Wales to the Industrial Revolution and the process of world development. The National Assembly resolves to give full support to the nomination on behalf of the people of Wales, and requests that the First Secretary conveys this message to UNESCO.

The National Assembly declares its support for the establishment of a Committee of Inquiry into the consequences of the imposition of tuition fees on higher education students in Wales. This Committee should be modelled on the Committee of Inquiry that is being set up, by the First Minister of Scotland, Donald Dewar. The Committee should report within six months, and its membership should consist of independent academics, lay people and student representatives.
