Dear Darren,

I am writing in response to your written question reference WQ88804 - what action is the Welsh Government taking to ensure that visitors to Wales are aware of the different default speed limit in built up areas in Wales compared to England.

We have shared information on the default 20mph speed limit with a range of stakeholders in the tourism industry including Cardiff Airport, Welsh ports and car hire companies. We have also worked with Visit Wales to help engage with tourism networks across Wales and beyond.

Media updates on 20mph have also been provided to national media and have received extensive coverage across UK-wide media outlets. In addition, there will be a public information leaflet sent to those living in England, on the England/Wales border, to complement digital marketing that already extends to border communities.

Yours sincerely
