Dear Jack,

Thank you for your recent Written Question asking if consideration has been given to supporting the axe the fax campaign in relation to the NHS in Wales.

We are committed to increasing access to information through digital services, both between health and care settings and with the patient. With the upcoming analogue telephony network switch-off in 2025, all hospitals will have had to migrate to digital services, and we are continuing to work with health boards to ensure that this is achieved

Yours sincerely,
