Committee Portfolios and Responsibilities in the 4th Assembly

Introduction

On 22 June 2011, the Assembly approved motions to establish its committee system. On 12 July 2011, the Business Committee laid a report on 'Committee Portfolios and Responsibilities in the 4th Assembly'. This report provides an update to that report.

The Standing Orders require all areas of government responsibility to be open to scrutiny by the Assembly's committee system. Hence, no areas of ministerial responsibility should be out of bounds for examination by at least one Assembly committee. At the same time, the Business Committee intends the system to allow for cross-cutting examination of all areas of government responsibility. So, whilst this report indicates the lead committee for each broad area of ministerial responsibility, all committees are free to examine any issue from their particular perspective.

The core roles of the Assembly's committee system can be summarised as follows:

- scrutinising Bills and other Assembly, UK and EU legislative proposals, reporting to the Assembly with recommendations for their improvement, and considering and making amendments to Bills;
- examining the finance and performance of relevant parts of the Welsh Government, associated public bodies and others of relevance to Wales; and
- examining and reporting on the implementation of Welsh Government policy, legislation and other commitments, including identifying and scrutinising areas of existing or emerging Welsh Government policy, or areas where existing policy is deficient, and making proposals for improvements.

Review of Committee remits

At its meeting of 12 November 2013, the Business Committee considered whether the remits of committees should be amended in any way in light of experience. The Presiding Officer wrote to all Chairs asking for their views on whether they believed their committee's ability to carry out their roles could be improved by amending its remit in any way.

Business Committee considered the Chairs' responses at its meeting on 10 December, and agreed to propose the new remits as set out below. The main changes from the original remits are:

- Higher Education to be included in both the remits of Enterprise and Business Committee and the Children and Young People Committee, with the latter's title being changed to "Children, Young People and Education". The two Committees will work together to ensure that they scrutinise this policy area effectively and from the perspectives of their overall remits; in practice this could mean Children Young People and Education Committee concentrates on funding and governance, for example, while Enterprise and Business would focus primarily on the contribution of Higher Education to the economy, particularly in terms of skills and intellectual property;

- Tourism to transfer from the Communities, Equalities and Local Government Committee to the Enterprise and Business Committee.

Other changes to the committee structure and their remits have already been agreed since 2011, including establishing a Committee for the Scrutiny of the First Minister and amending the remits of the Finance Committee and Public Accounts Committee. These are reflected in the remits set out below.

Finance Committee

The Finance Committee's role is to carry out the functions of the responsible committee set out in Standing Order 19. This includes consideration of the use of resources by the Assembly Commission or Welsh Ministers and in particular reporting during the annual budget round. The Committee may also consider any other matter relating to expenditure out of the Welsh Consolidated Fund.

In respect of the examination of the financial implications of Bills the Business Committee considers that the Committee should be selective, focusing its scrutiny on Bills of greatest financial significance, and take a strategic overview of financial matters relating to legislation.

As of 15 October 2013, the Finance Committee is also responsible for the functions set out in Standing Orders 18.10 and 18.11 in relation to oversight of the Wales Audit Office and Auditor General for Wales.

Public Accounts Committee

The Public Accounts Committee's role is to carry out the functions set out in Standing Order 18.2 and 18.3. The Committee will consider reports prepared by the Auditor General for Wales on the accounts of the Welsh Government and other public bodies, and on the economy, efficiency and effectiveness with which resources were employed in the discharge of public functions.

The Committee may also undertake its own inquiries into other areas of public expenditure.

Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee

The Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee's role is to carry out the specific functions of the responsible committee in Standing Order 21 and to consider any other constitutional or governmental matter within or relating to the competence of the Assembly or Welsh Ministers. This includes the consideration of statutory instruments, draft statutory instruments, any other subordinate legislation laid before the Assembly, Assembly and UK Bills as well as a wider remit to consider the subsidiarity implications of draft European Union legislation and other constitutional matters. In particular they also have an overview of the First Minister's functions as they relate to constitutional or overarching governmental matters.

Petitions Committee

The Petitions Committee's role is to consider all admissible petitions which are submitted by the public. Its specific functions are set out in Standing Order 23

Standards Committee

The Standards committee's role is to carry out the functions set out in Standing Order 22. These include the investigation of complaints referred to it by the Standards Commissioner, consideration of any matters of principle relating to the conduct of Members, establishing the procedures for the investigation of complaints and the arrangements for the Register of Members' interests and other relevant public records determined by Standing Orders.

Committee for the Scrutiny of the First Minister

To scrutinise the First Minister on any matter relevant to the exercise of the functions of the Welsh Ministers and the Counsel General, including those policy areas where the First Minister has lead responsibility.

European and External Affairs

The Business Committee agreed to mainstream European policy matters across committees rather than have a single, dedicated committee. The Constitutional and Legislative Affairs Committee will be responsible for subsidiarity monitoring checks as well as considering any other constitutional or governmental matter within or relating to the competence of the Assembly or Welsh Ministers.

The role of committee chairs

Committee chairs play a vital role in the delivery of the strategic objectives of the Assembly. Given this, and the fact that each Chair is elected by the Assembly as whole, we feel it is appropriate to set out in more detail the role that committee chairs must fulfil on behalf of the Assembly.

The key responsibilities of committee chairs are to:

- set the strategic direction of the committee and ensure the transparent prioritisation of its activity so as to deliver a balanced, comprehensive and effective programme of legislative, policy and financial scrutiny;
- maximise the relevance and influence of the committee whilst maintaining its clear independence from the Welsh Government;
- act impartially at all times, decisively, fairly and in a manner that maintains the confidence of the committee;
- command the confidence of Members, witnesses and the public at large through knowledge of the subject matter of the committee's remit; demonstration of effective legislative, policy and financial scrutiny techniques; maintenance of order; and the application of all relevant legal and procedural requirements on the committee;
- secure the commitment and engagement of all committee members and build cross-party consensus wherever possible;
- build the culture and skills mix within the committee required to maximise its effectiveness as a scrutiny body;
- ensure that the committee receives the expert advice, information and other support it requires to fulfil its objectives effectively;
- drive the delivery of all aspects of the committee's work with pace and quality;
- represent the committee publicly, in the media and in formal Assembly business; and

- ensure critical analysis and evaluation of the committee's work and drive innovation in its operation so as to increase effectiveness, public engagement and impact.
