Dear Andrew,

I am writing in response to WQ94187 'What has been the total cost to date of the tree planting initiatives in Africa as part of Wales in Africa, and how many trees have been planted.'

In total, and over the last 15 years, we have provided £273,000 a year to plant trees in Africa.

This has meant that 27.5 million trees have been planted which has helped the Welsh Government work towards its overall climate change goals as a government in addition to supporting some of the poorest communities on the planet where Wales has a strong connection.
