Dear Russell,

I am writing in response to WQ80264: What assessment has the Welsh Government made of the Independent SAGE Report entitled "COVID-19: what are the options for the UK? Please accept my apologies for the delay in responding.

Welsh Government review and consider many different scientific and technical papers from across the world from many groups and institutes, including the independent expert group referred to in your question. Welsh Government are an active participant in the official SAGE group where consensus opinion is reached between a number of international independent and impartial experts and supporting groups.

Yours sincerely,
