Dear Laura,

Please find below the answer to your Written Question.

Laura Anne Jones (South Wales East): When will the Minister provide the necessary advice and timescales to agricultural shows, like those in Machen and Bedwellty, on whether they can go ahead this year? WQ82512

Lesley Griffiths: The First Minister has announced that from 7 June large outdoor activities will be able to take place. The maximum numbers who may attend regulated gatherings outdoors, including agricultural shows, is up to 4,000 people of any age (standing) and 10,000 people of any age seated. All organisers planning events and activities must undertake a full risk assessment and put in place measures to prevent the spread of coronavirus, including social distancing.

Welsh Government is committed to a 21 Day Review cycle and will keep these new regulations under continuous review, taking into account the experience of the events industry and event attendees during this period and the changing public health situation – especially in relation to any new or developing variants.

Yours sincerely,

Lesley Griffiths AS/MS
