Dear Peter

Further to your Written Assembly Question, how many Local Authority and RSL (Registered Social Landlord) owned properties were demolished in 2008/09. Information on the numbers were published in the statistical first release 'Housing Demolitions and Hazards 2008-09' on 26th of August and is available on the Statistical Directorate website via the following link:

<http://wales.gov.uk/topics/statistics/headlines/housing2009/hdw200908261/?lang=en>

The latest published figures show a total of 10 dwellings demolished in Wales during 2008-09 of which 6 were RSL owned and 4 were private sector dwellings. There were no demolitions of Local Authority owned dwellings during this period.

The full demolitions and hazards dataset for 2008-09 is published on the internet at:

Yours sincerely,

Jocelyn Davies AM
