Dear Sam,

I am writing in response to the written question; What discussions has the Welsh Government had with farming unions and suppliers about the impact of rising input costs such as feed, fertiliser, and fuel on farm businesses? (WQ96958). I apologise for the delay in my response.

The Welsh Government holds regular discussions with stakeholders in relation to input costs. Officials are also active partners of the UK Agricultural Market Monitoring Group, which reviews and analyses market information from government and industry, including prices, production and trade for the main agricultural sectors in the UK.

Public notes and data analysed at these meetings are published online and can be found here.

I hope you find this response helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Huw Irranca-Davies AS/MS
