Annwyl Sarah,

I am writing in response to your Written Question of 20 May, which asked how many Welsh Government policy announcements made in the last five years have been delivered on time and met their original targets. I apologise for the delay in responding.

The period in question relates to the previous administration, which published information on delivery and performance during that time. In particular, its Programme for Government Annual Reports (2022 to 2025) set out its assessment of progress against its Well-being Objectives. These are available on the Welsh Government website.

As First Minister, I am accountable to the Senedd for the actions and decisions of this Government. My focus is on ensuring that our policy commitments are delivered in a transparent and accountable way, with progress reported clearly to the Senedd and the people of Wales.

Yn gywir,

Rhun ap Iorwerth
