Dear Llyr,

I'm writing in response to WQ80412: What assessments have been made of the impact on the R-rate if holiday caravan parks are allowed to open, and will the Minister provide a copy of the main dataset used in this calculation?

The impact on the R-rate has not been calculated in relation to opening caravan parks, and no dataset is therefore available. However, advice has been provided to highlight that the risk of outbreaks are increased where mobility is increased and where different households may share communal facilities.

Yours sincerely,
